Fish With Us In West
Virginia!
May 1st-3rd

We are getting ready to take an amazing group of women to West Virginia for a weekend of fishing, and the stoke is high! As of now there are still some spots open! Two nights, two days of fishing, all meals included and monster trout on a private stream. An amazing experience with a great group of women. Email us for more information.

Shad and Striper Fest

The stripers are coming, the stripers are coming and the shad are, too! Richmond Fly Women is beyond excited to welcome the striped bass run back to downtown Richmond and we want lots of women out on the water with us!

Starting whenever the shad and striper arrive until April 19th. we're calling on all women anglers to get outside and chase some fish. Whether you prefer to wade in, launch a kayak, or hop on a boat, this is your time to get after those big stripers and hard-fighting shad. Then on April 19th, we'll wrap it all up with a celebration! Join us for a party where we'll hand out prizes for:

- Biggest Fish
- who got catfished the most
- Most Fish

Most of all, this spring is about building community, celebrating the run, and getting as many women as possible out on the water. We can't wait to see you out there!

★ Guide Spotlight Matt Miles

Matt Miles brings over 20 years of experience guiding both beginner and advanced anglers. The Orvis 2023 guide of the year is based in Lynchburg, Virginia. However he has chased trout in Colorado and pursued peacock bass in the Amazon.

We had the pleasure of meeting him on an Orvis trip. We floated the Upper James for smallmouth bass, and the trip exceeded every expectation. With more than 40 fish landed in the boat, the action was nonstop. There is nothing like fly fishing for smallmouth bass in late summer when the fish are hitting top water. The experience is electric!

Matt was patient, kind, and quick with a well-timed joke. He respected our abilities, embraced our quirky spirits, and offered thoughtful, constructive feedback that helped us grow as anglers. Most importantly, we felt safe, supported, and truly seen on the water.

10/10 recommend Matt for any smallmouth or trout guided trip! Be sure to check out his Instagram and website to learn more and book an unforgettable smallmouth adventure this summer!
