Our Story

We are a fun loving couple who met a little later in life and joined our families together over 10 years ago.

We first crossed paths over 13 years ago during a night out with friends, unaware that we were being set upon a blind date. Fortunately, we caught on to the plan and chose to strike up a conversation to get to know one another.

We connected instantly and spent the entire evening chatting, and now, 13 years later, we have been happily married for the over 11 years!

We love to travel as often as we can and strive to take multiple trips a year, often out of the country. We both work from home and are grateful for the freedom and flexibility we have with our careers.

We love all genres of music, spending time with family and close friends, trying out new recipes, watching and playing sports, and being outdoors.

The last 11 years have been filled with love, good times, large family dinners, trips around the world and adventure, and we look forward to beginning our next adventure by welcoming a little one into our home!

Meet Kimberley

I am a friendly and open individual who thrives on social interactions. I genuinely enjoy meeting new people and engaging in meaningful conversations, as it brings a sense of connection and joy to my life. My passions include music, photography, and travel, which fuel my energy and inspire my creativity. Whether I'm strumming my guitar, capturing stunning landscapes through my camera lens, or exploring new cultures and cuisines, these activities enrich my life in countless ways.

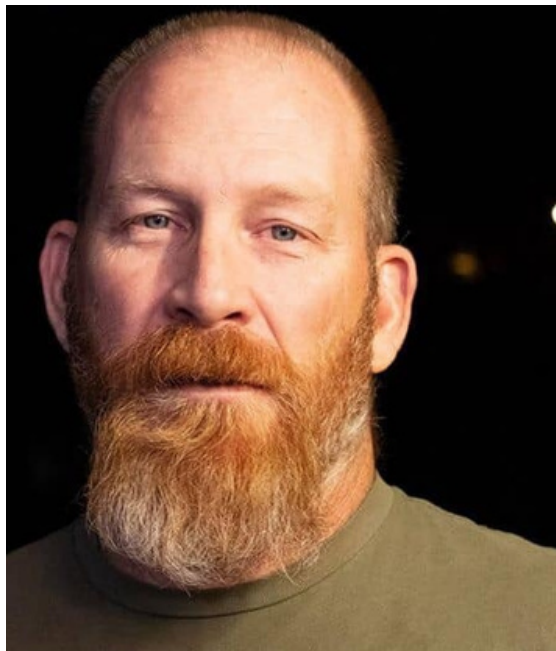

I'm a girlie girl with a tomboy side—an intriguing combination! I enjoy dressing up for an evening out with Sean just as much as I relish getting my hands dirty on our property, whether it's planting flowers or gardening. You can catch me shopping for shoes at Nordstrom or treating myself at the spa, just as easily as you'll find me at the hardware store picking up tools. A devoted dog lover, I grew up surrounded by several furry friends. My musical tastes are diverse, spanning from classical and jazz to old-school house music and hip hop. I've even traveled to see my favorite artists perform live!

Hailing from the South Side of Chicago, I carry a piece of my hometown with me wherever I go. The vibrant culture, rich history, and diverse community have shaped who I am today. Over the years, I've been lucky enough to live in different areas across the country, each location offering its own unique experiences and lessons. These adventures have helped me develop a broader perspective on life and have fueled my desire to explore even more of what the world has to offer. I have a desire to learn, create, and connect with others.

Meet Sean

As a seasoned veteran of U.S. Army Special Operations, I bring a wealth of experience and discipline to my current role. My military background has instilled in me a strong sense of duty and resilience, qualities that I carry into all aspects of my life.

When I'm not dedicating my skills to public service, I immerse myself in a variety of hobbies that reflect my diverse interests. I have a deep appreciation for both Marvel and DC comics, often finding joy in the intricate storytelling and the vibrant characters that populate these universes. This passion extends to anime as well, where I explore different genres and narratives, appreciating the artistry and creativity that brings these animated worlds to life.

My love for outdoor adventures keeps me active and in touch with nature. Whether it's hiking through rugged terrains, kayaking on serene lakes, or simply enjoying a weekend camping trip, I thrive in environments that allow me to explore and connect with the great outdoors.

Another passion of mine is grilling and smoking food. I enjoy experimenting with various techniques and flavors, crafting delicious meals that bring friends and family together. There's something incredibly satisfying about preparing a meal outdoors, where the aromas of smoked meats and grilled vegetables fill the air.

Why are we adopting?

Although we are unable to have more children of our own, we truly believe that our journey as parents is far from finished. We have experienced the joys and challenges of parenthood, and our home is filled with laughter, warmth, and countless bedtime stories that ignite our children's imaginations. Each story shared is not just a moment of bonding; it is a thread woven into the fabric of our family narrative, one that we cherish deeply. We eagerly look forward to continuing this beautiful legacy by welcoming another little one into our family. The prospect of nurturing a new life brings us immense joy and anticipation, as we envision the adventures and memories yet to come.

Above all, we wish to be a source of support as you consider this deeply challenging and selfless decision. We understand that the path to adoption is often fraught with complex emotions and tough choices. We honor and respect the courage it takes to contemplate adoption, and we aspire to be a loving and supportive presence in your life throughout this journey. We want you to know that your feelings, worries, and hopes are valid, and we are here to listen and to understand. Our commitment is to create an environment where you feel safe and valued as we navigate this process together.

For us, open adoption is a sacred promise that we hold dear. It represents not just a legal agreement, but a profound commitment to acknowledging your child's roots and heritage. We believe that it is essential for children to grow up with a clear understanding of their story, including where they come from and the people who love them. We strive to cultivate a relationship built on trust, respect, and mutual love, where you remain a vital part of your child's life. This connection is not only beneficial for your child, but it enriches our family as well, allowing us to embrace the unique tapestry of relationships that come with open adoption.

Our family journey has been one of embracing diversity, celebrating individuality, and fostering a strong sense of belonging. We recognize that every child is a unique gift, and we are committed to providing a loving home that honors their identity. In this spirit, open adoption allows us to share these values, enriching our lives with even more love and openness. We envision holidays filled with shared traditions, family gatherings where everyone feels included, and moments of connection that honor both your and our family's heritage. Together, we can build a future where your child knows that they are cherished by all of us, surrounded by a network of love that extends beyond the traditional boundaries of family.

Meet Our Fur Babies

Our house is always filled with the gentle snores of snoozing dogs and stray toys. We have four doggos ready to welcome a little one into their pack to play with and protect.

These goofballs keep us active and fill our hearts and home with so much love. They love when the kids in our lives come over and play, and are kind and gentle with them.

MOLLY, BORDER COLLIE, 7.5.

Molly is the friendliest dog ever. The smile on her face is constant. She loves to chase squirrels and play in the yard.

DAX, LAB MIX, 13.5

Dax is our grand old lady. We've had her since she was 5 months old. We don't know how much longer we'll have her around, but we cherish every day we have.

LOKI, GERMAN SHEPHERD 3.5

Loki lives up to her name. She is a fun, goofy mischievous dog who loves to play outside with her sister Kuma, or cuddle on the sofa with her ball. Or her sister's ball.

KUMA, GERMAN SHEPHERD, 3

Kuma is local security patrol. She's friendly and seeks to be as close to us as possible. She plays with her sister in the yard all day, and loves to fetch tennis balls. All. Day.

Our Home

WEST DFW AREA, TX

Our home is a sanctuary of love and warmth, not just for our blended family but for an extended circle of close friends who have become true family.

Our house is located approximately 30 minutes west of the DFW area, in a small subdivision of new homes filled with young families. Our neighborhood is close to local schools and has plenty of room for bike riding and exploring. We're close to shopping, fine dining, great schools and lots of stuff to do - but we can see all the stars at night too.

We live on a wooded, fenced lot with plenty of room for our dogs to run and play. Sean loves having a big backyard for his grill and smoker, and plenty of space for his woodworking projects.

We love to host our friends and family for home cooked meals. Hosting Thanksgiving each year is our favorite family tradition. Sean smokes the turkey and brisket, and Kimberley makes the yams, Mac and Cheese, greens and cornbread. Every year our home is filled with family and friends who have become family.

Our Tribe

We. Would. Be. Nowhere. Without. Our. Tribe. These are our friends, family, friends who have become family - our network of people we hold near and dear to us.

Our Tribe

We have learned that love is not bound by blood, but by the joy and devotion we bring to one another's lives. Our family, both blended and chosen, is a testament to the power of love to unite, heal, and create new, unbreakable bonds.

Our Blended Family

Our love story began when the universe orchestrated the perfect moment for our paths to intersect, albeit a bit later in life. Each of us came with our unique backgrounds and aspirations, as well as our beloved children—Kimberley with her two, and Sean with his three. Together, we wove a beautifully intricate tapestry filled with love, laughter, and shared interests.

As time went on, our love deepened, enriched by the experiences we shared and the challenges we faced together. We learned to navigate the complexities of co-parenting, always striving to create an environment where our children could thrive. Our commitment to each other strengthened as we supported one another through the ups and downs of life, proving that love knows no bounds.

In this beautiful tapestry we created, every thread represented a moment of joy, a shared interest, or a lesson learned. Our love story is one of resilience, laughter, and a profound understanding that together, we could face anything that life threw our way. Through our shared passions and the love we cultivated for one another, we built a family that embraced both the challenges and the triumphs, creating a legacy of love that would endure for years to come.

Our Final Note

Our aspiration to adopt transcends the simple act of fulfilling our own dreams; it embodies a deeper commitment to building an extended family—one that is rich in diversity, warmth, and love. This journey is not merely about adding a new member to our household; it is about creating a nurturing environment where connections can flourish and relationships can deepen. Each new member brings their unique story, experiences, and perspectives, contributing to a tapestry of life that weaves us all together.

We recognize the profound love and dedication that parenting entails. It requires patience, understanding, and an unwavering commitment to nurturing not just the physical needs of a child but also their emotional and psychological well-being. As we prepare to embrace this journey once more, we do so with open hearts and open arms, ready to provide a safe haven filled with unconditional love and support.

Every child deserves a place where they can thrive, feel valued, and express themselves freely. We are excited about the opportunity to guide, mentor, and learn from our future child, fostering an environment where they can develop their own identity and pursue their dreams. Our family is a circle of love that expands with each new connection, and we eagerly anticipate the joy, challenges, and growth that this journey will bring. Together, we will build a legacy of love, acceptance, and resilience that will resonate for generations to come.
