Community Spotlight: A Taste of Ohio Wine, Bourbon & Beer

Where Local Flavor Meets Local Art

The story of A Taste of Ohio Wine, Bourbon & Beer began with a vacation spark. While traveling together, the Bailey and Dickinson families encountered a self-serve wine station. They instantly fell in love with the concept and immediately knew they wanted to bring that same warm, welcoming vibe home to Zanesville. What started as a self-serve bar with small plates quickly blossomed into a full-scale restaurant experience celebrating Ohio-made wines and spirits. But they didn't stop at flavor. Shortly after opening, they immersed themselves in our local creative culture and proudly joined Art Coz.

Today, their two-story building doubles as a vibrant gallery. Local artwork is woven throughout the decor on both floors, with pieces available for purchase. Over the years, they have championed an incredibly diverse lineup of creators—hosting everyone from muralists, portrait painters, and coloring book artists to spray paint innovators and beer bottle cap sculptors. They also bring the building to life during every First Friday Art Walk, hosting local musicians and, most recently, introducing local authors to the mix. When it comes to supporting the community, the sky is truly the limit!
