EXPERTISE & SKILLS

Client TYPES

EDUCATIONAL CONTENT PROVIDERS

Armed with 24 years in nursing and healthcare, I have developed healthcare content for organizations aimed at educating the public, students, employees, or specific communities (e.g. men, ethnic minorities, or underrepresented populations). I specialize in community and population health, nursing, healthcare leadership, diversity, equity, and inclusion, and many other areas.

COLLEGES & UNIVERSITIES

My service-focused contributions to nursing, healthcare administration, and public health education has improved health equity and strengthened healthcare professional capacity such as nursing through the implementation of interventions designed to improve student success, especially for those from underrepresented populations. For example, I have developed transformational models within an accelerated nursing program to improve access to nursing education and student success for underrepresented populations through engagement, mentorship, and advocacy. Allow me to assist you in improving the success of your students. Additionally, I have a wealth of experience in developing professional development programming for faculty and staff. Lastly, I have experience in curriculum development and implementation with proven success for students.

COMMUNITY-BASED ORGANIZATIONS

Community-based organizations serve the purpose of making improvements in communities through focusing on the social and physical health, well-being, and the overall functioning of the individuals living within that community. In my 24-year career in nursing and healthcare, I have worked alongside community-based organizations in various capacities, which include but limited to: policy development, community engagement, content development, qualitative (focus groups) and quantitative (surveys) research, and community health education.

Client TYPES

HEALTHCARE ORGANIZATIONS

I have served in various capacities across the healthcare spectrum over my 24-year career as a Registered Nurse, researcher, and educator. As such, I have a wealth of knowledge in the areas of diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI), healthcare quality, program development and implementation, policy development, strategic plan writing, community needs assessment, and the professional development of your faculty and/or staff, just to name a few. Allow me to put my experience to work for you!.

INDIVIDUALS

In addition to my experience as a healthcare provider, administrator, researcher, and educator, I have worked with individuals in the following capacities:

- Resume and/or Curriculum Vitae development
 - Development of presentations
 - Development of infographics
 - Professional portfolios
 - Flyers
 - Scholarly writing
