PRINCIPIA RATIONES SUFFICIENTES

I am writing content for this website primarily under the self consented and acceptable name/pseudonym of Frederick Lightman.

This name should not be considered a legal fiction or registered identity of any corporate state or nation and therefore is not to be assumed as having given consent to any law or legislation that in any way shape or form can be used to deny my right as a natural human to go about my private business unhindered, uncensored, and unharmed as God intended.

The objective of law is to prevent harms being committed against all sentient life - not to provide a tool to impose tyrannical controls and/or inflict unnecessary harms.

I endeavour to behave in a just and equitable manner and as such, reserve all my rights as a thinking sentient human being, including the right to express ideas and thoughts that are a normal part of a human life.

It is not my intention to engage in any activities that are a real and credible threat to any other human or sentient being, or to engage in any activity which is intended to be a breach of any others' freedom, peace and serenity. If however you have a legitimate reason for concern, please email david@zeroinfinityone.net so that I may review any such concern and make an appropriate response to that concern.

Any attempt to suppress or sensor my 'God Given Mind' is deeply unacceptable at the most high and divine level of conscious being.

Under no circumstances are the content of this website to be assumed as written by any legal fiction that has been ascribed to me outside of my knowledge and or consent.

For transparency: The legal name ascribed to me at birth and with which I function in the fictional public domain is David Hunt (often capitalised and tagged with the title Mr.)

I also use the pseudonym 'Ivan Thudd' or @IvanThudd. This is an anagram of the legal fiction 'David Hunt' and reflects how jumbled up my identity feels, oh, and do you know just how many David Hunt's there are in the world? How can a man market his artwork with a name shared by hundreds, if not thousands of other David Hunts?

I'll tell you why I am going to be using the name Frederick Lightman later, as I plan on writing and discussing the topic entitled 'Identity Crisis'...
