Read the story.

Max was a cheerful boy who lived in a small town. Every morning, he was filled with excitement as he prepared for school. His mother woke him up and made him a delicious breakfast. Max knew it was time for another day of learning and fun.

At school, Max followed all the rules. He turned off his phone and listened attentively in class. When he had questions, he never hesitated to ask for help.

Max enjoyed his lessons, especially writing. He loved to take out his notebook and jot down answers to the questions his teacher asked. When he was unsure, she would kindly help him out.

One day, Max's teacher said, "Please speak up, so you can be heard, and look up all unknown words." Max took her advice to heart and continued to excel in his studies.

School days went by quickly, and Max was always determined. He knew that with hard work and dedication, he could achieve any dream he set his mind to. As the school year ended, Max couldn't help but smile, knowing that a bright future awaited him. He believed he could become a doctor.

And he remembered the words, "Never give up. It will work out."
