

One size does not fit all

ATV and SbS vehicles are by far one of the most attractive pieces of farm equipment to the younger generation. But, parents beware, one size does not fit all.

For adults, there are sport and utility ATVs, and for younger riders there are three different categories. The youth categories are designed for smaller hands and feet, and travel at slower speeds appropriate for their age.

Every ATV manufactured by our members comes with a warning label, clearly stating the minimum age of the rider. Not sure where to look? This label is affixed so it can easily be read by the rider when seated in the proper operating position.
