

There's Something Wrong With Me

It was forty years ago
And I didn't understand
No, I didn't comprehend
Why I never had no friends

And I didn't understand
And I didn't comprehend
Why the one whose supposed to be my pop
Didn't want to be my dad

And I didn't understand
Didn't comprehend
Why the one whose supposed to be my mom
Took her shit and ran

It was forty years ago
And the only thing to see
All I could do was blame myself
Because there was something wrong with me

Yeah, the only thing to understand
Only way to be
Couldn't help but hate myself
Because there was something wrong with me

There's something wrong with me
There's something wrong with me
There's something wrong with me
There's something wrong with me

It was forty days ago
And I want to understand
I'm trying to comprehend
Why I just can't love myself

Yeah, I want to understand
Trying to comprehend
Need to figure out
Why I keep on blaming myself

Forty days ago
And I really want to see
Need to understand
Is there something wrong with me?

Yeah, I want to understand
Is this any way to be?
Why do I actually hate myself?
Is there something wrong with me?

Is there something wrong with me?
Is there something wrong with me?
Is there something wrong with me?
Is there something wrong with me?

Forty seconds ago
I'm ready to understand
Ready to comprehend
Ready to love myself

Forty seconds ago
And the only thing to see
It's time to stop blaming myself
Because there's nothing wrong with me

Yeah, the only thing to understand
Only way to be
Time to start loving myself
Because there's nothing wrong with me

There's nothing wrong with me
There's nothing wrong with me
There's nothing wrong with me
There's nothing wrong with me

There's nothing wrong with me
There's nothing wrong with me
There's nothing wrong with me
There's nothing wrong with me

There is nothing wrong with me
