

Wokeness™madness, weirdness, and out-of-control progressive illness infecting everything and even eliminating Law & Order.

Is this now the 21st Century's Wild, Wild, West?

Once upon a time in our uniquely-created country, a spectacular and glorious nation that today — seems such a long, long ways away — entertainment was engaged to simultaneously deliver multiple aspirations, including enhancing empathy, and expanding on the concepts of human dignity and unity, whilst the news was naturally expected to inform the public so that society could achieve advancement, even-handed justice, and overall stability, the tools that typically yield personal safety and security.

Aside from being an obvious money-making venture, showbiz also fulfilled a desire to deliver clean distractions from life's daily doldrums. Moreover, it served as a universal, perhaps naive, but certainly noble vehicle, behaving as bonding factor and unifying force that delivered to everyone a good dose of fun, while advancing the common good.

But these honorable, decent, down-to-earth designs have been dramatically curtailed and negatively altered, which now brings us all to the place that requires the astute, positive, and inspiring overhauling of various life aspects — beginning with the restoration of the naturally required-by-every-society moral™order, especially since our existence now seems completely out of sane control, and definitely out of sound order!