

Why Real Estate?

Every day, millions of real estate agents around the world run their own businesses on their own schedule. As an agent, you become your own boss and can finally take control of your day-to-day as well as the trajectory of your entire career.

But that doesn't mean you're alone.

Keller Williams is a company built by agents for agents that will support entrepreneurs like you every step of the way as you build your business and achieve your goals. With networking resources, world-renowned training and coaching offerings, and models and systems you can simply plug into and go, Keller Williams provides what you need to thrive, making your real estate career truly limitless.

What Will It Take to Get Started?

The launch of your real estate career is just a few steps away. Michigan's real estate laws require that agents possess the following qualifications:

- Prelicensing Certification - 40 hrs
- State Exam
- Place your license with a brokerage
- Join the Boards of Real Estate
 - GRAR (Greater Regional Alliance of Realtors)
 - MAR (Michigan Alliance of Realtors)
 - NAR (National Alliance of Realtors)
