Testimonial for Elise Dasko

Former Owner/Director of
Parkland Montessori School, Spruce Grove

I was the music specialist at Parkland Montessori School from September 2012 to June 2014. Elise Dasko was the Owner/Director of the school.

Elise's school and the program she developed incorporate both the Montessori philosophy as well as learn through play. This combination allowed the children to focus on academics in a fun and safe environment. As an educator in the field for over 40 years, I observed that her program was an extremely successful way to work with and educate young children. Students actively learnt from the staff during structured time or from their own explorations and discoveries through play. Children flourished by doing the monthly art projects, music and literacy aspects of the program. Elise managed to successfully incorporate the two methods as well as involving many positive role models via the adults who worked or volunteered for her school.

I was impressed with Elise's Parkland Montessori School. It was very well run and the staff was organized and exceptionally trained. There was excellent communication between the owner, staff, volunteers, parents and students. This created a positive nurturing environment for the children who attended the school.

I would highly recommend Elise Dasko and her program to any parent looking for a positive, fulfilling, growth opportunity for their children. I would recommend any form of affiliation with Elise to be one of mutual advantages and possibilities.

I wish her the best in her future endeavours.

Sincerely,

Helve Sastok
