WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

"Tamelynda Lux and her colleague Olga Nikolajev presented to our team, providing helpful information that we are still talking about. There was lots to learn about MAiD and the role of end-of-life doulas. The presentation also provided us with an understanding of how hypnosis can be helpful holistically for the dying, their caregivers, and in dealing with stress in general. We are sure to invite for a returning presentation in the future. Thank you."

S. Koppenhoefer - Lead Paramedic, Paramedic & Senior Services, Community & Health Services Department, The Regional Municipality of York (November 2020)

"A moving, compelling story." "This makes so much sense to me. What a journey!"
"Tamelynda's presentation was incredible and motivating — first I want to acknowledge her bravery and transparency."

Audience Members (May 2019)

I found Tamelynda's presentation incredible and motivating - first I wanted to acknowledge her bravery and transparency. Flowing from her heart, the message that she sent - hope, energy, and a commitment to excellence - is something we all need to hear and experience.

Chris Kulbaba, Opportunities Architect

Thanks again for speaking at the Supply Chain Management Association Ontario (SCMAO) - London Summer Networking Event. You shared some great points that I can take back and use right away. I am looking forward to working with you in the future!

Doug Carter, Product Planner, StarTech.com (2019)

"Tamelynda showcases an engaging and interactive connection to her audience. With her expertise and experience Tamelynda will certainly help many people crush that one thing in life that gets in the way of their own success. When she speaks it feels like she is speaking directly to me . . . a speaker with strength, support and style."

S. Hilton - Founder & Former CEO, Stressed Out Solutions, London (2019)

Tamelynda believes the world is a classroom, and she is eager to continue exploring all aspects, embracing its teachings, and stretching herself to achieve greater potential so she can support others in reaching their own greater well-being and life engagement.
