

About Drumming Around

From corporate functions to retirement communities,
Drumming Around's programs appeal to all audiences!

Group drumming can be a cost-effective solution for your corporate groups, school programs, youth groups, employee wellness, community celebrations, and much more. Drumming Around offers a variety of programs suitable for many different populations and settings. Drum Circle programs can also be customized to fit the particular needs of your group or event. We are based in San Antonio, TX, but willing to travel (inside the US or Internationally) . Let us know what your needs are so we can tailor a program specifically for you!

Kevin Cooley has been a professional musician for over thirty years and has performed in many different musical settings. After years of performing Kevin decided it was time to share his love of music, his love of people, and his belief in music's ability to heal and bring people together in unique ways. In 2008, Kevin founded Drumming Around; a company dedicated to providing drum circle activities designed to meet specific community-building, corporate training, and wellness goals. Drumming Around programs can be seen in corporate functions, public and private schools, conference rooms, retirement communities, public and school libraries, church retreats, community centers, and wellness groups. Kevin is based in San Antonio, TX and in addition to drum circle facilitation, he continues to maintain a very active performance schedule.

Kevin is a member of the Drum Circle Facilitator's Guild, a HealthRHYTHMS trained facilitator, has graduated the Arthur Hull's Village Music Circles 3-Day Basic Facilitator's Workshop, and attended the Rhythm2Recovery training program. Kevin proudly endorses Toca Percussion, Boomwhackers, and Los Cabos Drumsticks.

Testimonials

Kinetic Kids

Kevin does a truly incredible job of engaging all children, no matter their diagnosis or ability level, and brings such joy and energy to the class that that you can't help but smile the whole time watching the kids play music, dance around, and show off during their drum solos. We are so thankful to have Kevin as part of the Kinetic Kids family, and look forward to many more Drumming Around events in the future!

Abbot Diagnostics

My objective of "team building" was achieved through this very engaging and uniquely different approach that I would recommend as an excellent forum for any business meeting or training. Kevin's applications of rhythmic exercises combined with leadership and listening skills reinforced my training curriculum and the take home lessons can be applied for any business team or organization.

Haven For Hope

As we entered the building with hunched shoulders and faces laden with worry, we were met with Kevin's exuberant smile. After a brief and enthusiastic introduction and with the grace of a conductor, synchronized rhythmic beats and reckless laughter erupted. Words such as hopeful, happy, awesome, grateful, and peaceful rang out. One child stated that he finally found something he was "good at". An adult stated that she felt a deep connection with her ancestors. I highly recommend Kevin. He is a gifted healer who soulfully applies the medicine of music to our wounds.
