Personal data will not be disclosed to any third party unlawfully.

The lawful and correct treatment of personal information is critical to our successful operations and to maintaining confidence.

2. Aim

We aim to ensure that all parents and carers can share their information in the confidence that it will only be used to enhance the welfare of their children. We meet the requirements of the Human Rights Act 1998 with regard to protecting the individual's rights to a private and family life, home and correspondence. Our only justification to interfering with this right is where we believe that a child may be at risk of significant harm, to prevent a crime or disorder. We meet the requirements of the Data Protection Act 1998 with regard to the information we gather from or about families, how we gather it, store it and use it. Our procedures enable us to meet these requirements and we are committed to:

- protecting staff and customers personal details, records and assessment outcomes
- keeping staff and customers personal data up to date and confidential
- maintaining personal data only for the time period required

- where the childcare place is funded by a county/city council we collect the information that is required by them and use the booking system they designate.
- Where the childcare place is funded by parents we collect the same information that the county/city council require for their bookings.

Information that is collected and stored on a the booking system includes:

- registration and admission details, consents, and correspondence concerning the child or family, an ongoing record of relevant contact with parents, and observations by staff on any confidential matter involving the child, such as developmental concerns or child protection matters, incident and accident logs, care plans, behaviour plans etc
- These confidential records are stored online on the booking system
- Parents have access to the records of their own children but do not have access to information about any other child
- Staff will not discuss personal information given by parents with other members of staff, except where it affects planning for the child’s needs. Staff induction includes an awareness of the importance of confidentiality in the role of the key person.

Under the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR), the lawful bases we rely on for processing this information are:

- Your consent. Through the process of booking with us we gain consent from the school/organisation to collect and hold this information, for the purposes described, in the way described. If you are unhappy with the information that we collect or the way we collect and manage it please contact the school/organisation that have booked with us in the first instance.
- Contract. We ask for this information from schools/organisations in order to effectively and efficiently fulfil the contract to deliver safe and effective management of participants on Adventurous Activities.
- We have a legal obligation to ensure that we appropriately deliver our higher duty of care to those in our charge, knowing their name and relevant medical / behavioural history is vital to this. In certain circumstances being able to identify participants without input from a 3rd party (for example a school teacher) is also important in the exercise of that duty.

4. Data Sharing

We have regard to the Common Law Duty of Confidentiality and only share information with other professionals or agencies on a ‘need to know’ basis, with consent from parents, or without their consent in specified circumstances to do with safeguarding children. These are when:

- There are concerns a child is or may be suffering significant harm
- The ‘reasonable cause to believe’ a child is or may be suffering significant harm is not clear
- There are concerns about ‘serious harm to adults’ (such as domestic violence or other matters affecting the welfare of parents). We explain to families about our duty to share information for the above reasons. Where we have concerns, we would normally gain consent from families to share. This does not have to be in writing, but we record in the child's file that we have gained verbal consent as a result of discussing a concern that we need to refer to a social care agency.

We do not seek consent from parents to share information where we believe that a child, or sometimes a vulnerable adult, may be endangered by seeking to gain consent. For example, where we have cause to believe a parent may try to cover up abuse, or threaten a child. Where we take a decision to share information without consent this is recorded in the child's file and the reason for doing so is clearly stated. Where evidence to support our concerns is not clear we may seek advice from our local Social Care agency or the NSPCC. We only share relevant information that is accurate, factual, non-judgemental and up to date. Other Records Issues to do with the employment of staff, whether paid or unpaid, remain confidential to the people directly involved with making personnel decisions.

5. Allegations

Staff and clients are required to report any allegation in relation to the unlawful treatment of personal data to SAC. A complaint should be made in the event that staff or clients feel that records of their personal data have been:

- lost
- obtained through unlawful disclosure or unauthorised access
- recorded inaccurately and/or in a misleading manner
- provided to a third party without permission.

6. Actions

Where required, SAC will take appropriate action/corrective measures against unauthorised/unlawful processing, loss, destruction or damage to personal data.
