

Pastor Victoria Harris

Dr. Victoria Harris is known for her innate ability to encourage, empower and educate people toward professional, spiritual, physical and overall life balance. She is known for her gifted ability to administrate across multiple industries. Professionally, she has served as the Operations Coordinator for the Presidential Daily Briefing Office of the CIA in, McClean, VA, serving two presidential terms. She was also selected to coordinate Government training and oversaw hiring initiatives. To add to her diversity, Victoria currently serves in the Pastoral Ministry and Social Concerns Office of the Catholic Archdiocese of Washington providing Pastoral and archdiocesan wide social support for 3 senior level directors, multiple offices and over 139 parishes with their priest. She currently holds degrees in both Ministry and Theology while continually pursuing further education.

Raised in the church by her mother, the late Bishop Camillia Williams she has served over 20 years in many capacities of ministry from ushering to Pastoring and administratively supported the non-profit development and day to day operations of multiple ministries. She is a licensed, ordained and educated speaker, teacher and preacher who is sought after nationally and received some of her greatest formal training under Pastor, Rev. DeCarlo Coley of the Kent Baptist Church. Pastor Victoria previously served as the Women's Coordinator for the Temple of Praise Fellowship of Churches, under the honorable leadership of Bishop Glen A. Staples, and currently serves as Overseer of Intercessors for Covenant Churches of America presided by Bishop Marvin Denson. In grace and gratitude, she serves as the Senior Pastor of The Fire House Ministries and Overseer of The International Covenant Fellowship.

In addition to being the CEO of SHE Brands, and now partnering in Harbro Land and Building Development with her husband and covering Bishop LeVar T. Harris, Pastor is the founder of multiple Women's Organizations to include the national membership based, Fierce Ladies Achieving Ministry and Entrepreneurial Success (F.L.A.M.E.S), the community support and fellowship initiative of Girl, Get Up (GGU) and the Lydia Luncheon, all of which seeks to reach across the intersections of corporate business, non-profit and ministry toward empowerment, establishment and exchange among the balanced and developed woman. As a mentor and coach, she has assisted dozens of entrepreneurs in the branding, building and development of their businesses and visions. Her connections position her to provide invaluable networks and resources to all she is connected to, which is exhibited through her passion for the success and development of all people. Through transparency and training she lives out the balance of the corporate woman who is successfully active in marriage, motherhood, ministry, entrepreneurship, self-care and more with one of her greatest honors is being the mother of her daughter, Diamonique.
