Do you have an abortion-wounded heart?

- Do you lack the freedom to share your abortion experience with others?
- Do you avoid the subject of abortion because you feel like people will see it written across your forehead?
- Do you expect bad things to happen to you as a punishment for your abortion?
- Are you afraid to meet your child in heaven?
- Do you engage in self-punishing attitudes and behaviors?
- Are you pre-occupied with thoughts surrounding your abortion experience?
- Do you feel like you're all alone with the emotional pain you are feeling?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, God sees you in your pain, and wants to set you free from the guilt and shame of your abortion(s).

Comments from Female Retreat Participants:

"I have such peace in my soul for the first time in my entire life. I feel clean, desirable and worthy of love. You all have no idea how much this retreat and your friendship mean to me."

"For the first time in 2 years, I felt that I was surrounded by people who actually understood my brokenness, and fought for my healing."

"I feel so whole, no condemnation, no fear of rejection, no shame here. Just absolute resolve that I have been redeemed and liberated to fulfill my purpose and destiny!"

"That was the single most incredible weekend I have ever spent in my entire life. I'm so excited about my new life in the Lord."
