FROM OUR SENIOR MINISTER

Rev. Dr. Elizabeth Bingham

FAITHFULLY YOURS

I love the hands on the front of this issue of “Chiming In.” I love the hands on the banner outside of our church which illustrates who we are “A diverse, loving Christian community accepting of all.” I love the hands that appear on our website....because of what they symbolize...because of what they remind me of from some 35 years ago.

It was May 25, 1986—the Sunday of Memorial Day weekend, when a lot of people weren’t home but somewhere else. After all, summer was beginning and the weekend has three days, so...why not? People got on planes and trains. People hit the highway. They went to beaches and campgrounds and to see grandpa and grandma or longtime friends from years gone by. They weren’t at home, they were well, somewhere else.

Except that day, in Sherman Oaks, California there were a lot of people who weren’t somewhere else, they were here. Right here—on the corner of Magnolia and Hazeltine at Congregational Church of the Chimes. At least we started out here and then, yes, we went somewhere else. We walked from here to Ventura Boulevard; where we were not alone. We joined a party of sorts.

May 25, 1986, was the day that there were “Hands Across America,” and since I couldn’t quite remember who started it, I looked it up (What did we do without Google?). I do remember standing on Ventura Boulevard, with people holding hands as far as I could see to the east and to the west...holding hands.

A man named Ken Dragen thought of it and created it. And it raised almost $100,000,000 to fight famine in Africa and hunger and homelessness in the United States. We held hands and we sang. We sang “America the Beautiful” with Stevie Wonder whose voice bellowed from a loudspeaker. We heard a chorus singing, “We Are the World.” We stood and held hands in wonder and awe that we were, at that moment, with millions of others holding our hands all the way across the country.

So I love the hands on this cover, on our banner and on our website. Hands are instruments of our faithfulness. Hands work to help. Hands shake each other to welcome. Hands upon our hearts make promises and pledge our love and loyalty to our country. And when we hold hands with each other in affection and support, well, God is holding on too. Because, after all, as we sing about God, He’s got the whole world in his hands! Love and blessings to all, Beth

DEACON NEWS

Greg Abbott & Ralph Migliori Co-Chair

On Sunday May 23 the Deacons had our change over meeting. Ralph Migliori and I agreed to be Co-Chair. Sylvia McCormack will be recording secretary, and Cindi Olson corresponding secretary. After the meeting, Ginger Wright agreed to join us and will be our treasurer.

Ralph has contacted LA Children’s Bureau about doing Christmas in July and is waiting to hear back. We will keep you informed.

Lastly, is anyone else interested in serving on the Deacons? We would love to have you, as our work load will ramp up as the Pandemic winds down.

All the best, Greg

TRUSTEE NEWS

The Trustee Board held its first meeting of the new year on May 18th. We met in person adhering to the social distancing. Greg Abbott thanked the re-tiring members and welcomed the newly appointed members to the board.

Treasurer, John Van Veen, reported that the month of April was a positive month due to the filming industry utilizing our campus. Unfortunately we are still showing a negative balance. Also noted is the lag of pledge payments. Now that we are once again meeting on Sundays, it is our hope that pledge amounts will increase.

Curtis Leseman noted that there is no change in the City's permit process regarding the new digital sign.

The Trustees authorized the repair of the organ, an upgrade of the sanctuary audio system and replacement of the carpet in Beth's office.

Respectfully submitted by Jack Hendershot, Vice Chair

JANE’S CORNER

Jane G. Poole, CE Director

“One day you will look back and see that all along you were blooming.”
—Morgan Harper Nichols

I feel young in heart but judging from the dozens of phone calls I get every week now for me to sign up for Medicare, I guess I am getting up there in age!

The concept of getting older came up during a recent conversation in one of our gathering group sessions with the kids. We got off topic for a little while as it was brought to our attention that a birthday had just passed for one of the youth, and another was coming up. During the conversation, one of them exclaimed “I don’t want to get older!” It was a true Peter Pan moment! When I asked why, the answer was, “There is so much pressure to achieve as we get older!” A true statement for sure. However, what if we change the narrative a little bit to embrace getting older as an adventure worth facing head on?

In a recent article, Maria Shriver recommended a book, All Along You Are Blooming, by Morgan Harper Nichols (from which came the above quote). It truly shed light on how I should visualize aging. Maria shared this thought, “What if instead of aging, we’re blooming?”

Yes! What if we shifted our mindset from going downhill when we age, to blooming and growing like a flower as we age?

I really like the concept of how aging is a constant state of growing. As we grow, we form buds. And as we progress through life, we bloom into many flowers. What if we change our concept of aging from a negative state of mind to a beautiful visual of blooming over and over again? This could mean exploring and tackling new adventures, learning new crafts, taking up new sports or creative writing and, naturally, gardening. God has given us the gift of life, a life which we should cherish and during which we should enrich ourselves as much as possible.

Growing up can be daunting sometimes, but by embracing life as it is, we grow and bloom over and over, again and again. What a truly beautiful gift this is for us!

IMPERFECT PEOPLE

There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear:
because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.
1 John 4:18

Those of us who profess to be Christians don’t always act like the Christ we claim to adore. We are sometimes impatient, angry, hurtful, and sometimes even downright mean to others. We do stupid things that we ought not do. We fail to do some things we should. We disobey the commands of the Lord we claim to follow.

We have days where things seem to be on the right track and where our thoughts, words and deeds faithfully represent Christ, and then there are other days when we stumble and fall far, far short.

On behalf of imperfect so called Christians everywhere, please accept my apologies for such inconsistencies. Know that I along with another billion+ Christians around the globe deal with the same struggles you do, the same temptations, the same desires to do what is expedient or easy or pleasurable or selfish or acceptable to those around us, even when such desires are at odds with what our Lord Jesus Christ commanded and modeled in his time on earth. We make no excuses, we are human like you.

Thank God for having access to a PERFECT SAVIOR. JESUS is perfect in every way and on every level. Because of him, and HIM only I stand here forgiven. It’s only because of His grace and mercy that I am not consumed. He died for my sins, and He did it on purpose. That was His mission and goal to redeem mankind.

Because of His perfect love all my fear has been cast out. I no longer worry about man’s judgment or condemnation. I realize that the only one who can forgive sin, has forgiven my sins. I stand here today justified by His grace—set free by His mercy. I am forgiven.

You too can have this freedom. Just ask for it. Believe it! Curtis

We love him, because he first loved us. —1 John 4:19

BOY SCOUT TROOP 191 NEWS

On Wednesday, May 19th Troop 191 held a Court of Honor in Staves Chapel. Courts of Honor are gatherings for Scouts, families and guests where the troop and its members are recognized for all that's been achieved and accomplished, and often include some very impressive ceremonies. This one featured the Scouts reading the Scout Law, one boy at a time. Scout Law outlines the twelve (12) principals by which a Boy Scout lives: "A Scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean, and reverent." Congrats to these awesome young men for all they have accomplished! (Pictured from l to r: Benjamin Brachman, Max Jean, Sean Macdonald, Sebastien Gravelle, Aiden Pushin, and in the back, the MC, Marcus Jean.).

THOUGHTS TO PONDER

COMMUNITY & WORLD SERVICE NEWS Robert Dunn, Chair-TBD

A MISSION MOMENT: Hope of the Valley's Tiny Home Project

A Key to Someone's Future.

Fourteen of our church members were privileged to visit Reseda's Tiny House Village on May 29th. This is the 3rd village to open in our SFV under the combined efforts of the City of Los Angeles and the Hope of the Valley Rescue Mission.

The Tiny House Villages provide a house to those without shelter.

Each Tiny House is 64 sq.ft, has four windows, air conditioning, heating, two beds, a desk, storage, and a door that locks. The Tiny Homes sit in a village with 24/7 security guards, hygiene stations, showers, laundry rooms, 3 meals a day with outdoor eating areas, and even a dog park (they want to help both ends of the leash).

When a person is presented with the option of the Tiny House Community, they meet with a Case Manager who will guide them to receive the help they need to give them a fresh start in society. This includes Job Training, Job Placement, and equally important, a promising future full of hope.

So far we have received enough donations to support one Tiny Home ($3,000), and we are on our way, as a congregation, to support a second one. It is all because of your generosity! Our goal is to receive enough money for this second home.

Both houses will be in the new Tarzana Village due to open this June. If you are interested in contributing towards a key to a home for one of God's struggling children, you can do so through the church (just note the donation is for the Tiny House Village).

If you have any questions and want to help, or if you want more detailed information, please feel free to contact the church office or me directly.

Together we can help give a new life to those who want it.

RACIAL EQUITY AND THE CHURCH

Michele Marot, Co-Editor

We are “A diverse and loving Christian Community accepting of all.”

About nine of us met on May 23rd to discuss the problem of racial inequity in our community. Saddened by the many racial inequities prevalent in our country against people of color and, more recently, against Asian Americans, we want to work towards making a positive change.

Our church is planning to move forward on several ideas to help heal racial inequity locally. First, in the coming months, we hope to reach out to the Korean and Spanish churches on our campus to plan a multi-cultural banquet – yum!

Another idea in the works is that of having a “Movie Night” with several possible movie titles dealing with racial equity.

As our society opens up, post-pandemic, and if you have ideas and would like to participate with our church as we move towards making a more racially equitable world, please join us at our next scheduled meeting on June 27th at 1pm via Zoom. The link will be noted in Beth’s daily emails during that week.

HISTORIAN NEWS

Robert Jones, Historian

As your new Church Of The Chimes Historian, I'm looking forward to sharing the history of our church with you. I plan to offer a unique perspective, for the stories will sometimes be told through the eyes of a once young member who was literally born into the church in 1949. There will be stories about the earliest days when a small group of believers, including my parents, gathered in anticipation of planting a church on the grounds of a prominent local doctor’s home whose 5 acre estate ultimately became the site of the newborn church.

This story will include personal reflections of those early days and continue through my teen years .....the history will continue without me being active here for several decades to when I became active as a first hand account upon my official re-membership on Easter Sunday, 2017.

I am excited to relive the lifelong personal spiritual journey while depicting COTC’s historic pathway taken from its' earliest days to the present. We have all been blessed beyond measure with a place to gather and worship with the Lord in such a peaceful and beautiful setting. His blessings to you. Robert
