

the walking engage wit it allows th home for t site therefo the tours of potentially be given a its sites. If ending at for a summer to engage walking tour when: the deciding of who: the people whome living also allow where: the areas where already be-team.

purpose

is important to me in prompting discussion scale in 3d, the simp create 3d forms, enc-feel they have the typ the activity should be when: within the hom that the design works there is an establis who: the group will be have expressed intere well as inviting resider where: the workshop community centre or activated walking tour process outcome tiny village design workshop

purpose

the tiny village design activity that allows pa with different site cor an opportunity to tes the exercise consists and 3d printed tiny he visualise their future the participants to a and engage in discu neighbours, the proc sometimes difficult, bonds not only with tiny home communi residents agency or held once a site has homefolk residents expressed an inter where: the exercise should engagement event, held ide centre or space local to the prepare the 1 200 site map printed 1:200 map

3D printed tiny homes prepare the toolkit sign exercise to people willo otential homefolk residents establish a network within the future foster a collaborative mindset between develop a co-designed masterplan of the site build potential residents understanding of their needs in their immediate living form an understanding of residents' desires for their community to refine future site

