

STAT Northern Ltd

Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

At STAT Northern, we are committed to upholding the highest ethical standards in our work with students, universities, and educational institutions. Although we do not operate with traditional suppliers, our work in providing Non-Medical Helper (NMH) support services obliges us to maintain vigilance against any form of modern slavery or exploitation.

Our Commitment:

- Ethical Practices: We ensure modern slavery and human trafficking are entirely absent from our business practices. We offer staff training to recognise and report signs of exploitation.
- Support for Vulnerable Students: Many of the individuals we work with are potentially vulnerable. We are committed to providing a safe and supportive environment, with robust channels to address any concerns.
- Partner Responsibility: We collaborate with educational institutions and expect all partners to uphold ethical standards, ensuring the safety and well-being of all individuals involved.

We regularly review our policies to remain aligned with this commitment, ensuring that exploitation has no place in any part of our operations.

Last Updated: October 2024