Why you should consider supporting ASTI

- ASTI is your advocate! ASTI has been a constant source of information for its members for over 30 years and has always been your advocate in the field for a stronger connection between your facility and local responders and regulators.
- ASTI solves problems! ASTI is an expert in solving problems that hold you (the industry) back.
- State-of-the-art training and emergency planning programs designed for you in mind by using the Tripod/ CONOPS training logic.
- A direct and improved relationship with your local responders and regulatory groups that is supported by State Emergency Response Commissions, and the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) as well as the regulatory expectations from EPA and OSHA. These strong relationships have resulted in improved emergency responses in many communities throughout the country and abroad.
- ASTI is YOU! ASTI is for ALL ammonia users around the world, from industrial refrigeration, ammonia fuels, and agriculture, to the various sectors of ammonia transport (rail, trucking, and maritime transportation), including safety and emergency planning for receiving, storing, and dispersing bulk amounts of ammonia storage. We build training programs with everyone in mind.

Your support can mean better training programs in the future.

- Support the live release scenarios at the annual 32-Hour Ammonia Responder course held annually in the Monterey Bay Area, or a local Safety Day and Tabletop event that's in your community.
- Sign up and spread the word about the One Plan and future LMS online based training that will keep your facility safe and in compliance.
- Engage with and support the ASTI Associate program for new approaches to annual compliance training that fulfills your annual training requirements. All of the ASTI Associates are vetted by ASTI and have a deep understanding of emergency planning and support the ammonia response CONOPS training logic.
