

IRS Problem Resolution — Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

- Why did I receive a letter from the IRS?

IRS letters are issued for many reasons—missing documents, mismatched income, past-due taxes, identity verification, or questions about your return. We help you understand what it means and what steps to take.

- What should I do if I don't understand my IRS notice?

Do not ignore it. IRS letters include strict deadlines. Bring the notice to us and we will explain it and prepare the proper response.

- Can ignoring an IRS notice make the situation worse?

Yes. It can lead to increased penalties, interest, garnishments, or delayed refunds. Acting quickly is important.

- Do you contact the IRS for me?

We prepare all documents and guide you through the steps required. (Non-attorney notice: We do not represent clients before the IRS.)

- Can you help if I have years of unfiled tax returns?

Absolutely. We help you gather documents, prepare missing returns, and restore compliance.

- What if I can't afford to pay the IRS?

You may qualify for installment agreements, hardship status, or other IRS arrangements. We help you understand your options.

- Can you stop or reduce wage garnishments or bank levies?

We help determine what triggered the action and explain steps to address it. Quick action is critical.

- How long does IRS problem resolution take?

Timelines vary. Some issues resolve in weeks, others in months. We keep you informed throughout.

- What documents do I need to bring?

Bring your IRS notice, most recent tax return, prior IRS letters, identification, and any related income or business documents.

- Do you keep my information confidential?

Yes. All client information is kept private, secure, and confidential.

- Are you attorneys?

No. We are non-attorney tax support providers offering document preparation and guidance. For legal representation, we can direct you to the right professional.

- How do I get started?

Schedule an appointment, upload your notice, or call our office. We will begin your case review immediately.
