

Johnny Mattock Biography

Johnny Mattock is a trained percussionist who started playing in his local (Northampton) County Youth Orchestra at the age of 12.

Discovering Rock and Roll shortly afterwards he spent most of his teenage years in various clubbing bands, learning his chops and bringing home the bacon.

Overseas touring and recording sessions followed with the likes of Massive Attack, Spiritualized and film soundtrack work in London and Bristol.

More recently he has been lecturing at Northampton College working with Music Practice and Music Technology students on the HND programme, preparing learners for their own musical voyages.

Johnny has played with Sara Spade for the last 5 years providing a dynamic, stand-up percussive display.
