

ANTIQUÉ

Antique is an up-and-coming tech-house DJ and producer from Budapest who has found his sound in the world of darker beats. His sets are characterised by a sense of movement and unique musical experimentation that always manages to surprise his audience.

He has performed at prestigious domestic festivals such as Balaton Sound and Sziget Festival. His talent and dedication are best proven by the fact that he reached the finals of the elrow Up and Coming competition, one of the most prestigious contests in the international electronic music scene.

Antique is an active figure in Budapest's house scene, regularly performing at the city's most popular clubs and events.

His goal is to enrich the local electronic music culture with his music and energetic performances creating unforgettable experiences for his audience.

